Roppongi Art Night 2017

This year's theme is 'Mirai no Matsuri' (festivals of the future).

Visuals and selection finalized!

Welcoming Mika Ninagawa as the main artist, this year's event will feature a wide range of exciting art programs. Also celebrating the launch of the 'Southeast Asia Project' an initiative that promotes creating artworks with the local community.

The Roppongi Art Night Executive Committee will be hosting Roppongi Art Night 2017 for 2 days on September 30 (Sat) and October 1(Sun), 2017.

Launched in 2009, Roppongi Art Night will be celebrating its 8th session. A festival of art staged in the district of Roppongi, Roppongi Art Night has grown to attract over 800,000 visitors, offering an energetic surreal experience to those walking the streets from sunset to sunrise.

This year's theme is 'Mirai no Matsuri'(festivals of the future), and Roppongi Art Night is excited in welcoming Photographer and Film Director Mika Ninagawa as the main artist. A truly diverse artist, Ninagawa has a strong following not only within Japan, but also abroad and especially in Asia. She has been featured in numerous publications and media and has held exhibitions in Taiwan, Hong Kong, and Malaysia with great success. Do not miss the beautiful and seductive world of Mika Ninagawa.

In addition, Roppongi Art Night will be launching the 'Southeast Asia Project' in which artists from Southeast Asia as well as Japanese artists will work together with the Roppongi community and its people to create and present art. They will create art works based on the theme 'matsuri (festival) ' and present their works at Roppongi Art Night. Powerful and spirited artists will gather from around the world to offer a magical experience.

< Roppongi Art Night 2017 Theme ; Mirai no Matsuri (festivals of the future) >

What comes to mind on hearing the word 'matsuri (festival)'? The general definition for matsuri is 'the act of praying to or worshiping a deity or ancestors to give thanks or to comfort the spirit'. However, in recent years, music festivals and art festivals are all considered a matsuri. What all of these have in common is that people gather to share an experience and pass on cultures to future generations and is a communication platform. This year's Roppongi Art Night 2017, will be featuring art and performance from around the world, including many from Asia, proposing a new creative form of 'matsuri (festival) '.
